

MRS. HEARST A HONOLULU VISITOR

Mrs. Phebe Hearst, widow of the late Senator Hearst of California, and mother of Proprietor Hearst of the Examiner, Journal and American newspapers, passed by yesterday as a through passenger in the Doric, accompanied by friends. It was thirty-five years ago that Mrs. Hearst last visited Hawaii, and she found much during her brief visit yesterday to form contrasts with the undeveloped Honolulu of her former visit. She will return to San Francisco, via Honolulu.

Mrs. Hearst has done much in recent years for educational development, and has made gifts recently to the University of California that have attracted wide attention. It was through Mrs. Hearst's efforts also that the University grounds were beautified.

A.-H. S. B. Officials Coming.

SEATTLE, Oct. 5.—The great freighter Nebraska, Captain J. S. Green, arrived from Honolulu by way of San Francisco yesterday afternoon, having aboard Captain W. D. Burnham and V. F. Lassoe, manager and supervising engineer respectively of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, which owns and operates nine enormous cargo carriers, including the Nebraska, operating also by charter the freighters Minnetonka and Minnewas-ka.

These leading management officials of the great steamship line are here on a tour of inspection of the company's business. This is Mr. Lassoe's first visit to the Sound, but Captain Burnham has been here several times in the past four or five years.

The Nebraska brought very little cargo for this port, but she will take 5,000 tons of lime, flour, lumber, fertilizer and beer from Seattle and Tacoma for the Hawaiian Islands. She has on board 1,000 tons of general freight consigned to the Islands from San Francisco.

REMEMBER THAT

The Angle Lamp is more brilliant than gas or electricity. The Angle Lamp gives little heat. The Angle Lamp is as easy to operate as gas—no glass to remove, no blowing out. The Angle Lamp is the only lamp that has "No-Under-Shadow." The Angle Lamp requires almost no care. The Angle Lamp saves its whole cost in a short time. The Angle Lamp costs about eighteen cents a month to burn. The Angle Lamp burns from 12 to 22 hours with one filling. The Angle Lamp never smokes or smells. The Angle Lamp rarely breaks the glass. The Angle Lamp is absolutely non-explosive.
